ARMENIAN RELIEF

MANY VOLUNTEER FOR WORK
IN DRIVE WHICH STARTS
TODAY

Rev. Charles Scott, Chairman of Publicity for the Armenian-Syrian Relief drive states that representatives of the different churches have reported 95 volunteers for the canvass and $300 in subscriptions secured in the churches yesterday.

A new feature of the drive which will be established this afternoon and continue while the canvass is on will be the placing of desks bearing the sign "Armenian-Syrian Relief" in front of the First National Bank and the P. E. Station on Brand boulevard, with young ladies in charge to receive subscriptions.

Full announcements of districts and workers will be given out tomorrow with a list of captains.

Tonight at the regular meeting of the Elks' Club, Ezra Parker will present the matter to that organization and Attorney McBryde will make an appeal for workers in the drive. The Elks are taking a great interest in this cause and a liberal response is expected from them.

The Palace Grand Theatre is also helping by running slides every night dealing with Armenian-Syrian Relief Work.

DRIVEN TO LOS ANGELES

Harry Duffield, the actor, of West Lomita avenue, and Mrs. Duffield have leased their house to tourists from Michigan and are leaving for Los Angeles Monday morning. Mr. Duffield's profession makes it necessary that he should be in frequent communication with the Morosco Theatre and the prospect of a 10c toll was so dismaying that he decided to pull up stakes and move to Los Angeles. He and his wife have engaged quarters at the St. Francis Hotel where they will be independent of trolleys and have free telephone service.

MARRIAGE OF JOHN McBRATNEY

A telegram was received this week at the Irish Linen Store in Monrovia announcing the marriage on Wednesday of John McBratney, in Cork, Ireland, to a young woman of that city with whom he has long been acquainted and who is the sister of his brother's wife. The telegram stated that he would return to the United States about the 20th of the month and that he and his bride would make stops in New York and Chicago. Mr. McBratney was the founder of the Glendale Irish Linen Store and has many friends here.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

TRIBUTES TO ROOSEVELT BY REV. W. J. MARSH AND HARTLEY SHAW

The service at the Congregational Church Sunday evening was a Memorial to Theodore Roosevelt. After the singing of "America" by the young people of the congregation and a prayer in which the pastor, Rev. W. J. Marsh, petitioned for the guidance of the nation, and that leaders might arise even as Theodore Roosevelt had been raised up, he reviewed the character of Roosevelt, dwelling on the fact that when death invades the home or the nation, life must go on just the same and the pressure of circumstance is such that we scarce have time to pay tribute to the dead; but so it was when Lincoln, McKinley and Garfield died.

"We are met here," he said, "for the purpose of expressing our feeling of regard for this great man, not as Republicans, as Democrats, as Prohibitionists or Socialists, but as citizens of a great country, to mourn the loss of a great citizen, and there are none even of Mr. Roosevelt's most bitter enemies who will not rise up today and with one voice proclaim his greatness.

"Theodore Roosevelt takes his place among the immortals. His is one of the great names that will last—a star in our national firmament, if not of first magnitude, ranking very close to it. Washington and Lincoln are stars of the first magnitude." (Continued on Page 4)

FROM FAR CORNAY

CORP. CARL ENGLE ON FRENCH
FRONT SAYS SHERMAN WAS RIGHT ABOUT WAR

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Engle, of 814 Harvard street, have received a Thanksgiving letter written by their son, Corporal Carl D. Engle, under date of November 28th, and also several beautiful Christmas cards in which he expressed the hope of coming home soon. He is in Company A, 316th Ammunition Train, 91st Division, American Expeditionary Forces, and as the Ninety-First has been slated for early return, his parents are anticipating his arrival in the near future. In his Thanksgiving letter he wrote:

"Dear Mother and Father:—

"Again it is Thanksgiving Day and almost past. We sure had a very different day from any other I have ever spent, but just about as enjoyable as any I can ever remember. The only thing I miss is being home, but we probably will be home soon—I hope so.

"We had a great feed today, just all any boy could want, even to pie, candy and all the 'fixins,' for Uncle Sam sure sends the stuff for the boys 'over there.'"

"It is just seven months since we landed in Camp Lewis and just five since we left Lewis for overseas. We landed in Camp Mills July 7th and left New York on the Olympic, a sister ship to the Titanic, which you will remember was sunk several months ago. We landed in Southampton on the 19th of July, crossed the channel on the Antrim, a small but swift boat, and on the 21st, Sunday, landed in France. We stayed at an English rest camp for six days and on the 27th took the train for Marseilles in the northern part of France. We reached Marseilles the 30th of July and stayed there for seven weeks, then left for the front and took part in the drive in the Argonne Forest. Since then we have been in the advanced zone and so far have been up just past the town of Buzancy. That was about a week before the armistice terms were signed. Since then Fritz has been off the job and, believe me, we are all glad that it is finished, for Sherman was right, only had he been over here he would have hardly have known what to say.

"Your loving son,

"CARL."

CUMULATIVE DISASTER

While Glendale has paid toll in connection with the influenza epidemic it has thus far escaped the tragedies which have been recorded in some homes, one of which is reported as having taken place in the Wilshire District of Los Angeles where the father of a young family was in a hospital suffering with influenza and the wife at home was looking after their two infant twin boys whom she had placed in a tub preparatory to giving them a bath when the telephone rang. Expecting a message from the hospital she dropped everything leaving the water running in the tub and in her haste and agitation tripped at the top of the stairs and fell headlong, breaking her neck and dying instantly. A neighbor hearing the persistent ringing of the phone came in to investigate, answered the call only to learn that the husband had died at the hospital, that the wife was dead at home, and on ascending the stairs discovered the two children drowned in the bath tub.

ROMANCE OF A CABIN SPOILED

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Parker have a bit of real estate which they describe as "a little patch of sand near Lankershim" (40 acres) on which they have (or had) a two-room furnished house. They have been in the habit of visiting this rustic retreat occasionally when they wanted to get far from the "madding crowd" in Glendale, and have had some very happy hours there. But last Friday, when they sought its shelter they found a hole in the window where a burglar had entered and then opened the door from the inside and removed almost the entire amount of portable furniture, including a three-hole gas-oline stove, dishes, knives and forks, canned goods, etc., in the kitchen, and from the main room a wash stand, a green carpet reversible rug from the floor, 8x10, one pillow, leaving one, comforts, blankets, clothing, a Rayo lamp, toilet articles and few other things. As there were some things left which the thief might be intending to return and get, the Parkers brought them home for safe keeping. Mr. Parker has notified the police of all the surrounding towns, but he and Mrs. Parker are much depressed over this abuse of their confidence and say it has taken away all their joy in their country estate.

SPARTICIDES ARE READY TO QUIT

EBERT GOVERNMENT REFUSES TO CONSIDER ANYTHING
BUT IMMEDIATE AND UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Copenhagen, Jan. 13.—A Berlin dispatch today, quoting the secretary to Chancellor Ebert, announced that the Spartacus group has admitted defeat and declared its readiness to accept terms from the government if the government would postpone the national elections for a period of three months. Other dispatches said that the Spartacides had offered to quit, but that the government had refused to accept their surrender unless it be unconditional, and had notified them that it would annihilate the revolvers with artillery unless they surrendered unconditionally and immediately.

A Berlin newspaper said that Carl Liebknecht had not been killed, but that he, Rosa Luxemburg and one thousand other Spartacus members had been taken prisoner by the government.

MINISTERS AND 140 PERSONS IMPLICATED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Jan. 13.—The police today declared they had discovered a soviet organization in Buenos Aires and had arrested its minister of war and minister of police. They said they had the names of 140 persons implicated in the plot and that members of the soviet came to South America in October and November, from Russia, to spread Bolshevism. The radicals, they said, had plenty of arms and ammunition, but the police do not know where these supplies come from.

PVT. DONALD GOODE

IS NOW IN GERMANY AND RE-CEIVING ROYAL TREATMENT
FROM THE HUNS

J. B. Wagon, of the Glendale Fire Department, is in receipt of the following letter from Private J. D. Goode, of the Medical Department, First Ammunition Train, A. E. F., France, which will be of interest to many Glendale people as the writer formerly lived in this city and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Goode, who are now residing in the Imperial Valley:

Somewhere in Germany,
Dec. 5, '18.

Dear Jack:—

I received your letter some time ago, but haven't had time to answer but will take it now.

We have been on the move continually since the end of the war. We were right up near Sedan when the armistice was signed and it did seem funny to hear the guns booming right up to the minute and then quit everywhere at almost the same time. It was sure quiet.

It sure seems good now that we can have lights any place and a thousand other little things that we haven't had for a long, long time. Well, as you know, I came over here in Dec., 1918, and was transferred to this division. We were in the fighting lines a short time in Oct., 1917, but did not do much then as we were there more for the experience than anything else.

Then on Jan. 28, 1918, we went up to the front to give the Hun a real taste of our ammunition. That is what I call pretty quick action, leaving home in October and being up in the front lines in January.

From then on to the end of the war we were on the front continually. The only time we were back of the lines was when we were being transferred from one front to another, which we did quite often. We were in the battles of Cantigny and Mont Didier, around Soissons and Chateau Thierry, St. Mihiel, Verdun and then in the last big drive on Sedan. Beside being on the front in two other places where nothing of much importance took place. As soon as the fighting ceased we started to move toward Germany. We stopped in the city of Verdun for about a week and you can't imagine the destruction of that town. The town would compare somewhat with Pasadena as to size. The whole town is just one mass of ruins. Not a building left any place that hasn't been damaged. The underground part of the city was the only part that wasn't destroyed and that part was a wonderful place.

We left there and came over into the Luxembourg province. This is a small province all of its own claiming to be neutral. It is very small comparing somewhat to the country around home.

We stayed there about two weeks and then yesterday we moved again crossing the Moselle River and coming into Germany about noon. Where we are now everything seems more modern and much cleaner than in France.

The people here treat us royally. Since we left France I have had a

BIRTHDAY DINNER

J. F. Hearnshaw was guest of honor at a family dinner party given in celebration of his birthday by Mrs. Hearnshaw Friday night. Her table was beautiful in all its appointments and was centered with yellow jasmine and narcissus. An important feature was a beautiful birthday cake illuminated with an appropriate number of candles. The guest list included Mr. and Mrs. William Violi, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sanders and daughter and Mrs. A. Augustin of Chicago.

CHAPTER A. H. OF THE P. E. O.

The regular all-day working session of Chapter A. H. of the P. E. O. was held Friday at the home of Mrs. Charles Barker on Glendale avenue where a considerable amount of sewing for Belgian relief was accomplished. There was no program but Mrs. Emil Tholen read extracts from a soldier's diary which were given to her husband, Capt. Tholen, in a French hospital just before the writer "went west." These represented his jottings from day to day and they were of great interest to the sympathetic mothers who heard them. The usual cafeteria luncheon was served at noon.

The next regular all-day and luncheon program meeting will take place January 24th, the hostesses being Mesdames Mary Goodwin, Mary Tholen, Greta Lynch, Zina Van Etten. Mrs. Barker will give a paper on "The Star."

POST AND CORPS

INSTALL OFFICERS AND HEAR
FINE ADDRESSES FROM DIS-TINGUISHED GUESTS

An all-day meeting and a very important one, took place Friday at G. A. R. Hall on Glendale avenue when official installations of officers for N. P. Banks Post and Corps took place. The ceremonies of the Post took place in the forenoon, the installing officer being Theodore Kanouse of Los Angeles, assisted by the Installing Officer of the Day, Thomas Hull, also of Los Angeles.

Officers installed were: Commander, J. A. Thayer; Sr. Vice Commander, William Collins; Jr. Vice Commander, Comrade Scudler; Officer of the Day, R. N. Taylor; Officer of the Guard, Comrade Houdyshell; Surgeon, Dr. A. H. Guernsey; Chaplain, C. R. Norton; Quartermaster, J. J. Weiler; Quartermaster Sergt., G. W. Sanford; Adjutant, T. M. Barrett; Sergt. Major, R. D. Goss; Patriotic Instructor, C. R. Norton; Color Bearer, Thomas Gillette.

A very nice lunch was served at noon by the committee of entertainment of which Mrs. Mary Rhea was chairman.

Following the luncheon a brief program was enjoyed at which musical numbers were contributed by Dr. P. O. Lucas, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Winona Crawford, and a recitation by Mrs. Priscilla Howdyshell entitled, "A Modern Sapho."

There was much talk of the death of Theodore Roosevelt, and the sense of personal bereavement which many felt, and Samuel Parker, who was a guest of honor, composed a poem expressive of the sentiments with which this great American was regarded, which was read at the meeting and followed by the adoption of the following resolution:

WHEREAS, In the sudden passing from the field of active life of the distinguished citizen and past President of the U. S., Theo. Roosevelt, the world has sustained an irreparable loss and is deeply shocked with the

A "RATIFICATION" SERVICE

A prayer and praise service to promote the ratification of the national prohibition amendment was held at the Lutheran Church Friday afternoon, in which most of the churches of Glendale were represented. Mrs. Ruby Smart, president of the City W. C. T. U., presiding at the session.

Rev. R. W. Mottern spoke to the topic, "Why We Ratify." Rev. A. B. Smart gave "Some Vital Facts." Rev. Charles Scott of the First Methodist Church considered "World Prohibition." Elder Lucas of the Adventist Church discussed "National Morality." Mrs. Weien, representing the Glendale Presbyterian Church, made a brief talk on "The Co-operation of the Churches with the W. C. T. U." and Mrs. G. H. Rowe, President of the Y. P. B., represented the Baptist Church with an appropriate contribution to the program. Musical numbers were contributed by Misses Faith Tarling, Hazel Walters, Elizabeth Mottern and Olive Marsh.

MRS. FRANCES CAROLINE TOMPKINS

Funeral services were conducted Saturday at 2:30 at Grand View Cemetery over the remains of Mrs. Frances Caroline Tompkins, who came with her husband, W. L. Tompkins, to Burbank, in 1898, from Wisconsin. She resided in Burbank until the 29th of October when she went to Calabasas, to make her home with Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Lewis. She had been greatly interested in the Red Cross and liberal in service and contributions. She was born in Hoosic, N. Y., October 26, 1841. Her father, Henry L. Danforth, who was born in 1806, was a native of Vermont, and her mother—born in 1810—of Petersburg, N. Y. Rev. C. R. Norton, of this city, who was an old friend and pastor of deceased, officiated at the funeral.

DEATH OF GEORGE T. MILLER

On Sunday morning, January 12, 1919, death claimed George T. Miller, of 209 West Palmer Ave., a resident of this city for twenty years, after an illness of several months borne with the patience and cheerfulness that was his leading characteristic. He has had the tender care of his sister, Mrs. Alice McGowan, of this city, and also of her husband until he passed away a week ago. She is therefore doubly bereaved and has the deep sympathy of the community.

The deceased was born in Arkansas, August 3, 1849. In 1895 he came to Glendale, where he has since lived, he and his friend and chum, Comrade "Bob" Taylor, having "batted" together for many years and shared the cottage in which he died. For thirteen years he had been employed by the Pacific Tile and Terra Cotta Works in this city, as a watchman and engineer.

He was esteemed by all who knew him, was a man of the kindest instincts, most generous disposition and brought up a family of brothers and sisters when they were orphaned by the death of his father. He was a Mason and belonged to Unity Lodge of Glendale.

Funeral services, under the direction of Scovern, Letton & Frey, will be held Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Little Church of the Flowers, his brother Masons having charge of the commitment obsequies. In addition to the sister mentioned, the deceased leaves two brothers, John Miller, of Louisiana, and Thomas Miller, of Arkansas.

Ladies of the Glendale Presbyterian Church will meet to sew for the Red Cross all day Thursday and all ladies of the church and congregation are requested to come with their thimbles prepared to work.

J. M. COX TAKES OATH OF OFFICE AS OHIO CHIEF

(By United Press)

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 13.—Governor James M. Cox, Democrat, today took the oath of office as governor of Ohio for the third time. But two other Ohioans, one of them Rutherford B. Hayes, later president, have been so honored.

First elected in 1912, Gov. Cox was defeated for re-election in 1914 by Frank B. Willis, Republican. He defeated Willis in 1916 and 1918.

Gov. Cox was the only Democrat to take an Ohio state office today. Republicans were sworn into other positions. Clarence J. Brown, West Union, took the oath as lieutenant-governor; Rudolph A. Archer, Belaire, as treasurer, and John G. Price, Columbus, as attorney general.

TELEPHONE TRIBULATION

January 11, 1919.

To the Editor of the Glendale News:
Dear Sir:—

To be or not to be, that is the question. The Powers that be, say it has to be the Big B; in Business parlance. When an article becomes prohibitive in price the public gives up its use, the law of supply and demand asserts itself; then the junkers are hoist with their own petard, the biter gets bit and things reassert themselves automatically, at a tremendous loss to the instigators, with a certain amount of inconvenience to the users. It will be so if this injustice of a 10c toll be levied on the 4,000 or more subscribers of Glendale and vicinity. The Telephone Co. can no more afford to lose $140,000 to $200,000 a year if 75 per cent. to 95 per cent. decide to discontinue the use of the phone. I guess by about March if this toll is insisted on, all or most of the private residences will have ordered a discontinuance of their phones and it will then take another month for the business man to follow suit because if there are not private phones there will be no one to phone orders in to the business stores, etc. It will be pretty hard to have to go back to calling and soliciting and taking orders, but anything is better than putting up with this Bolshevik business—call it by any other name it smells just as bad.

"Bust the Trust We Must." This is not a personal matter between the employees of the Telephone Co. and the Glendale public. It is a matter of principle, and right will win in the end. In fact, I don't think it will come off. I believe at the eleventh hour an armistice will be called and peace will be declared, with honor to all. However, the last day of the month will be soon enough to order the phones disconnected. If a phone call is legal to notify an advance in price or an extra toll charge, a verbal message would hold good for a discontinuance of service. Anyway the company would not allow its use if a bill remained unpaid after ordering a phone out.

If the City Trustees have any agreement on file other than when the charter was granted, as to terms, etc., then I say bring it forth and have it enforced. That agreement is as good today as the day it was made. Even if the same Trustees are not on the present Board, it was a deed consummated on behalf of the residents of Glendale.

I believe the time is coming and is not far distant when municipal ownership of all public utilities will become an accomplished fact. Gas, electric lights, water, telephones, street cars, schools, libraries, etc., self-sustaining by the people for the people. This is the only solution. People are too well-educated now-a-days to have any injustice put over on them.

Yours, etc.,

good bed to sleep in and, believe me, that is quite a luxury for us. The people here just simply can't do enough for us. All we have to do is to mention what we want and they fall all over themselves getting it for us. The French people never hurt themselves any doing that if they got our money that is all that they wanted.

We came through one big town yesterday that seemed more like civilization than anything I've seen for a long time. It had street cars and large department stores and everything like they have in the states. Now you can't realize what a good sight that is over here. I only wish we could have stayed there for a while. The name of this town was Tries or at least that is the way it sounded.

We are only about fifty miles from Coblenz which is on the Rhine and I guess we will be there soon.

Hoping to hear from you again soon and that you will tell all of my old Glendale friends hello for me.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

tude that will never fade out of our political sky. If we were to name six men who would stand close to Washington and Lincoln in service rendered to country, in the affection and admiration they inspired, I believe with one accord we would place Theodore Roosevelt among those six great names, and it may be history will give him a higher place."

The preacher then compared Roosevelt with Washington and Lincoln showing in what ways he resembled each and at times combined their characteristics, saying that like Washington he was born to wealth and high social position, an aristocrat, but that like the father of his country he sacrificed his personal ease and advantages to serve the cause of the people. He showed, too, how different was his attitude toward his fellows from Washington's cold aloofness and dignity. That in the democracy of his association with other men and his ability to meet all classes of men on their own plane, he was like the great commoner.

He spoke of his courage in fighting and overcoming the defects of a weak physical constitution.

He spoke also of the fact that at Harvard he was so devoted to his studies that he earned the title of "grind." As a fellow student phrased it: He studied as if he expected some time to be president. From this the speaker argued that like Lincoln he cherished great ambitions and strove to fit himself to meet a great destiny if it came to him. His sympathy with the common people, he declared, was like Lincoln's and it manifested itself even in his college days. Said he: "With all his culture and wide learning, it was possible for Theodore Roosevelt to companionship men in lower stations in life and make them feel at home with him. He was able to adapt himself to all conditions and all classes."

"Washington and Lincoln were alike in the fundamental qualities that are really vital and Roosevelt shared those fundamentals. All three were alike in their Americanism. Abraham Lincoln has been called 'the great American' and that is a title that has also been applied to Roosevelt. In another respect he was like Washington and Lincoln—in the uprightness of his character, in his sterling integrity. It is a great thing for a nation to have as leaders men of such character as this. It was confidence in Washington that carried the country through the crisis of Arnold's treason.

"Roosevelt was a man beyond suspicion of corruptibility. What would it have meant to France had Napoleon had the same high character as Washington and Lincoln! How different might have been the history of France and of Europe! His was a strong, turbulent, volcanic nature. If he did not come forth at a time of great crisis, it nevertheless meant much when he became president that he had the character he possessed.

Hartley Shaw then reviewed Roosevelt's life as president, saying: "We are perhaps too close to the career of Theodore Roosevelt to be able to assign the position it will have in history. For thirty years he has been a prominent figure in our country and when he came to the presidency it was not as an untried man. We knew him to be of an impetuous nature with a fiery zeal for the cause he espoused. We saw him in the Spanish-American war and knew he desired to get things done. After his return from that war we saw him plunged into the governorship of New York and witnessed his struggles with the political evils he found there.

"Mr. Shaw then spoke of the 'providential' way in which Roosevelt came to the presidency through having been thrust unwillingly into the office of vice-president by the politicians who sought to 'shelve' him for their own ends; of his conscientious endeavors to carry out the policy of McKinley when the term of that president was ended by the assassin's bullet. He then enumerated some of his outstanding achievements as president, calling attention to the fact that he was the youngest president the country had ever had, being but 43 years of age when he came to the office, his predecessors had been of an average of sixty. He spoke of his efforts to forward, as president, the work he had begun as Civil Service Commissioner; of his alertness to seize an opportunity to secure a right of way in Panama which would make possible the Panama Canal, long dreamed of but never realized until he 'put it through'; of his successful negotiation of a peace between Russia and Japan, an achievement which won for him the Nobel prize; the passage of the Interstate Commerce Law by Congress to provide for regulation of railroads, and how he always set his face against the influence of these large bodies in Congress and set the current running the other way.

"Admitting Roosevelt's great self-confidence, Mr. Shaw declared he was always ready to listen to the views of other men in whom he had confidence and alter his judgments if convinced he had been wrong. In proof of this characteristic he quoted the words of Congressman Cannon and of ex-President Taft who was big enough to forget his personal differences with Roosevelt and pay him a splendid tribute in which he said that Roosevelt had no false pride of opinion, that he was perfectly willing to reverse himself if shown that he was wrong even when it would cause him great personal embarrassment.

"Mr. Shaw also referred to Roosevelt's ability to select men to work with him who were able to carry out the task entrusted to them and command the respect of the country, speaking also of his willingness to confer and compromise if necessary, believing that 'half a loaf was better than no bread,' and that the next time he would come nearer to reaching his goal.

"In the speech which he made in Paris in 1910 the speaker believed Roosevelt expressed his own character when he said: 'It is not the critic that counts, not the man who points out where the strong man stumbles, but the doer of deeds, the man in the arena.'"

HENRY ALLEN BECOMES GOVERNOR OF KANSAS

TOPEKA, Kas., Jan. 13.—Henry Allen, Wichita editor, was inaugurated governor of Kansas, succeeding Arthur Capper, today. Capper was elected to the U. S. Senate in the last election.

Allen is recently home from France, where he worked for the Red Cross. Instead of the usual dress affair, a genuine Western "meeting of the folks" was held at the Auditorium, and everyone spoke the well-known "Kansas language." Allen told about his experiences in France.

In the Name of Pity—Give!

Oh, America of the great heart, the cry of the stricken peoples of the Near East is heard at your door.

You have been so close to us through all the years of our struggles toward the light. Your hands outstretched to us have never been empty.

AND now we cry to you from the depths of a greater need than even our torn souls have ever known. In the name of pity—do not fail us!

There has been cruel suffering in our lands, massacre, famine, death. But the spirit of our people still lives, and calls to you across the sea to send help lest we perish.

Our God is your God, and we bare our souls for your searching eyes that you may see how we have never denied Him, nor shamed Him. When our world rocked in misery about us, in our torn and tortured bodies our hearts still cradled and sheltered the crucified Christ. We held true in our allegiance to God and humanity.

The people of the Near East are old in suffering. The way we have traveled has been Via Dolorosa, the way of tears and blood. And now—we are so low in the dust that only your young, unshattered strength can raise us.

Around the world the news has gone, is ringing today clarion-clear, that America's men and America's women have never yet been called upon in vain to right a wrong, to protect the weak, to succor the defenseless. We cry to you, help us—America! We are Armenian, Syrian, Greek, Jew, and we speak strange tongues, but our need of you is so great. What is left of our children are starving. What is left of our men and women, young men and maidens, are without work, without shelter, without clothing, racked with disease. Open your great hearts and give, and our people will pay. In the years to come, how they will pay in return! You, who are so safe and strong beyond the reach of such misery as ours, open your heart to our cry.

17c a day—$5 a month—$60 a year will buy life for one of us.

In the name of pity—give!
